Petro Plus™ to be featured at National Association of Convenience Stores Expo 2009 in Las Vegas

Toronto, October 14th 2009: Petro Plus will be featured at the National Association of Convenience Stores (NACS) 2009 Expo in Las Vegas, Nevada from October 20th – 23rd. The NACS, represents more than 2,200 retail member companies and these companies were responsible for the sale of more than 80% of all fuel purchased in the United States in 2008.

Petro Plus allows retailers that utilize the IBM 4690 operating system to deploy and seamlessly integrate a complete, PCI compliant, fuel management system in a matter of months, not years. This is the first fuel management solution specifically designed for the IBM 4690 environment.

“In today’s economy, retailers are doing whatever they can to increase customer loyalty. For many big box retailers and supermarkets, fuel represents a tremendous opportunity for customer retention. We are proud to be able to offer an integrated fuel system to the 4690 environment”, stated Dave Mahr, V.P. – Sales and Marketing at STJ Retail.

Petro Plus is the product of a strategic partnership between STJ Retail and RMS Solutions. RMS, a recognized industry leader in providing fuel management solutions, teamed with STJ Retail, a recognized industry leader in 4690 software support and development services, to create this, ‘bolt-on’ solution for IBM 4690 clients that are looking to add fuel sales to their current business or more efficiently manage existing fuel operations.

For more information on Petro Plus please visit the RMS Software booth (#3417) at the NACS Expo. Additional information is also available on the STJ Retail website at www.stjretail.com/pettoplus.
