

AUGMENT YOUR TESTING CAPABILITY

Dedicated in-house laboratories provide essential services, but such labs may not provide certain test capabilities. On a strategic level, in-house laboratories may be expensive to operate and are typically under-utilized, underfunded and outdated. Having access to a facility and resources when required reduces overhead and operating costs while provides instant access to world-class analytical expertise and capabilities on short notice.

CHOOSE STJ RETAIL

STJ Retail has a proven track-record of successful testing and QA projects. Our lab consultants are experienced professionals, who work with clients to ensure results that meet or exceed desired targets. At STJ Retail we pride ourselves on making your transition to our independent QA test lab a seamless process through flexible contract terms, resizable testing teams and outstanding results.

CONTACT STJ RETAIL

Richard Cuttler
Tel. (905) 851-6600 Ext. 153
Fax. (905) 851-1298
eMail. rcuttler@stjretail.com
Web. www.stjretail.com

Independent Test Lab Services for Store Systems and EMV, Chip and PIN

Accurate laboratory testing is an essential part of effectively managing your business. STJ Retail has created a testing offering that provides confidential and independent testing and certifications for store systems and retail payments requirements. The testing environment can be customized and maintained to meet your specific needs, without the headaches and frustration of having to pull together the various pieces and approvals from a variety of stakeholders.

Responsive, Flexible, Thorough and Confidential Testing.

Our experienced staff has specialized testing skills and expertise on various test tools and technologies. The QA test lab is located in our 6,000 square foot facility located just north of Toronto. Our offering is adaptable and flexible with respect to variations in corporate culture and style. STJ Retail is able to match the best testing strategies for disparate software QA requirements and objectives, across different divisions/ companies and geographies. STJ Retail has the ability to solve the most complex testing tasks, ensuring higher defects coverage and superior value.

The STJ Retail laboratory provides technical testing expertise and capabilities to meet the research, quality control and analytical testing needs for retail store systems and EMV. Whether your product is at the concept, beta, certification or production stage we can troubleshoot your environment and assist with all of your testing needs.

Services include:

- Automated and manual testing of software functionality and performance.
- Dedicated testing team – that can vary in size and duration in order to meet client needs.
- Independent verification and validation of software products and certifications
- Testing environment, and tools that can be built and maintained by your team or ours.

8001 Weston Road, Suite 400
Woodbridge, Ontario
Canada L4L 9C8

